

Dr Marios Demetriades is the Director of the Research and Innovation Support Service of the University of Cyprus and he is also in parallel appointment as the Executive Director of the European Office of Cyprus. He holds a PhD in Economics from the University of Birmingham, UK, with his thesis focusing on Economics of Science, Innovation, Policy and Growth. He has significant experience in quantitative and qualitative analysis and evaluation of Science and Innovation Policies and performance. He is involved for over 15 years in Science and Innovation Policy and he is the main author and project coordinator of externally funded projects of over €7 million including a H2020-MSCA-CO-FUND and the H2020-WIDENING ERA Chairs project titled "SInnoPSis- ERA Chair in Science and Innovation Policy and Studies". He has also contributed in the writing of two successful Teaming proposals. He is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP) of the Project Management Institute of USA and he has extensive research project management experience (>15 years, >200 research projects). He has also served the European Commission many times as an external expert, being recently appointed both in 2017 and 2019 to carry out the EU Joint Research Centre Research and Innovation Observatory reports for Cyprus.

